The farms of Sioux county will prove to be mines of wealth to their owners within the next few years.

The annual report of the Union Pacific company for the past year shows that it paid three and a half per cent on the capital stock. It would not be very fair to attempt to reduce the profits of those who are stockholders.

The only thing accomplished so far by the impeachment proceedings is that it has furnished the daily papers with some thing with which to fill their columns, and has furnished the pops with another opportunity to make a hole in the state funds.

The cutting of railroad rates to the world's fair has commenced but so far no one has heard of any cut in hotel rates at the city on the lake. The people of Chicago are not having the fair altogether for health. They believe in making hay while the sun shines.

The excellent crop prospects in north-western Nebraska are attracting a great deal of attention all over the country. The interest is not confined to this state but extends all over where people are interested in the development of the newer portions of the country.

The active part taken by Rosewater in the interest of the Union Pacific railroad shows about how much he cares for the dear people as soon as he has accomplished what he wants to during the session of the legislature. All he cares for the people is to use them to further his own interests.

Kansas calamity howlers have passed laws against foreign capital and the money now in that state which belongs to non-residents will be taken out of the state as fast as possible. The people of that state will likely find that they will have more calamity without the money than they did with it.

El. L. Heath has bought the Star and consolidated it with the Standard and flopped that into the populist camp, and now has the only paper in Rushville. His action is a surprise to many, but at this time of the year it is evidently not a sell out as has been the case with many of the papers which have espoused the cause of the pops.

The supreme court has rendered an opinion in the case in which the governor was asked to be compelled to appoint an additional judge in the twelfth district. It holds that the bill was never passed because the governor refused to sign it. The court might have gone further and given the cracks who brought the suit to understand that the court did not have time to monkey with such fool things.

Kem has evidently concluded that he has worked the calamity racket for all it is worth and that he will have to find some new scheme with which to fool the people. He is reported as just completing the largest and finest house in Broken Bow. Maybe he thinks people have not caught onto his "motherless children" demagogery yet and that he can give that to the guileless in his next campaign.

The Anselv Chronicle takes up the rate law and shows that the representative from that district voted for it when it will take a good deal of money out of the freight payers of that county and give some of the neighboring towns a great advantage over the home of the reform legislator. It looks as if very few of the men who voted for that law knew what they were doing, or else did not care a cent who it hit or who it hurt.

A portion of a letter was read to the editor of this paper a few days ago from an eastern capitalist which stated quite clearly the reason why such a demand is being made by foreign countries for gold. The unfriendly legislation in the west and south and the attempts at partial repudiation of existing debts by flooding the country with a depreciated circulating medium has caused capitalists to become afraid to loan out their money lest it be lost, not only the interest, but the principal as well. In some of the states there is no money now except home money and that commands two or three times as much as the supply and demand of the price of money so long as it is safe, but the moment its safety is threatened all outside money seeks a refuge of safety even if it has to go out of the country, and the rate on local capital advances to correspond with the demand and the risk involved.

What It Cost.

Edward Blaine.

Eric Johnson, chief clerk of the late lamented House of Representatives of the commonwealth of Nebraska, has compiled a recapitulation of the expenses of that body during the recent session, and it contains "figgers" that will be of interest to the over-burdened taxpayers. Here they are:

Repairs to representative hall.....	$ 1,500 00
Printing.....	2,500 20
Investigation of state affairs.....	1,215 43
Miscellaneous incidental expenses.....	1,977 29
School land and funds in vestigation.....	450 00
Employees not on regular force.....	410 00
Receipt of ballots on constitutional amendments.....	241 50
Recapitulation of investigation.....	212 50
Insurance bill (bravery investigation.....	75 10
Lincoln insane asylum investigation.....	1,572 00
Beatrice feeble minded institute investigation.....	306 50
Hastings asylum investigation.....	419 50
Supplies ordered by secretary of state prior to session.....	2,450 35
Supplies ordered during session.....	1,616 91
Capital Nat'l bank investigation.....	213 40
Impachment expenses.....	5,068 50
Electors counted expenses.....	225 70 47
Total.....	$30,000 00
Per diem for members.....	2,400 00
Mileage paid members.....	1,650 00
Amount paid regular employees.....	16,944 22
Grand total.....	$72,997 30

The per diem and mileage of the members amounts to $32,183.89, while the pay of the regular employees amounts to the enormous sum of $16,564.32, more than half as much as the members. In addition to this $243 was paid to employees not on the regular list. Look at the other items for "investigations," election contests, etc. When this great REFORM legislature met, every pop member had a gang of leeches and parasites at his heels, and Lincoln literally swarmed with patriots who wanted a job of some kind, and they all had to have places of some sort, where they put in short hours doing just about nothing at big pay. No legislature in the history of the state has ever looted the treasury and squandered money like the one just closed. The pops went down to Lincoln for the express purpose of making political capital. They said they had a Boyd-Newberry and they wanted a Crouse-Newberry, but Crouse signed their bill and it will go into effect three months hence, when it will soon be developed whether the measure was a wise one.

Besides the big sum of money included in Clerk Johnson's list of expenses, the impeachment cases will use up several thousand more—all for buncomb.

Sioux county could be settled a good deal quicker and with a great deal less work if the railroad company would put better train service this side of Chadron. As it is now when a man comes here to seek land he gets so thoroughly disgusted with the slow ride up White river that it is hard work to keep him from leaving on the first train. If he is induced to stay over night and is taken a trip into the country he soon sees that there is much fine land here and that the rough land is confined to a narrow strip. One land-seeker stated the first of the week that he had never been homesick in his life until he was on the trip this side of Chadron. He was so well pleased after he got here that he expects to be a resident of Sioux county within a month, and that is the way with all who come. Is there no way to get the railroad company to help in the work? Perhaps some one who has a pull on Senator Stewart can get him to have a special session of the legislature called and a law passed to regulate the trains.

The fellow with wolf scalps will only have the satisfaction of slaughtering a pest, as the legislature made no provision for paying the bounty. There are numberless certificates for the bounty that could be bought cheap as a consequence in this county.—Broken Bow Leader.

The above is another evidence of what the great statesman from Deadman who was in the senate during the recent session, failed to accomplish. During the campaign when he wanted votes he pretended to be very anxious to get statistics so that he might know how much of an appropriation to order of the legislature for bounty on wolf scalps, but after election he seems to have lost all interest in the matter and the stock owners of his district will either have to fight the wild animals themselves or lose a good deal of stock, or both, when a liberal bounty would have resulted in the hunting of the pests by people who cannot afford to spend the time merely for sport and who have no stock to be destroyed. A good bounty for the killing of wild animals would have benefited the people of Senator Stewart's district more than will the freight rate bill from the present indications.

A New York daily paper, taking up the idea conveyed in Flammarion's exciting novel, "The Last Days of the World," has interviewed a number of the leading men in all professions as to what they would do if science were to predict tomorrow that the end of the world would arrive in the next thirty days. The answers are various and curious, and heighten the interest which is felt in the second part of Flammarion's great novel, which appears in the May Cosmopolitan. It is a question which everyone will find interesting to ask of himself: What would you do if within six weeks the end of the world were certain? Probably no novel which has ever appeared in an American magazine has been more elaborately illustrated by more distinguished artists. Laurens, Saunier, Vogel, Meulle, Rochegrosse, Geradid and Chovin all contribute to the explanation of the text. A clever story of another kind is that of the new English novelist, Gilbert Parker, in the same number. "American Society in Paris" is an article of another kind, but will interest all who have had occasion to make even a short residence in the French capital. The Cosmopolitan scores a success in producing in its May number, almost simultaneously with the daily papers, an elaborate description of Professor Gray's marvellous invention the Teloautograph, which reproduces the handwriting, or the work of the artist, simultaneously, thousands of miles distant from the place where the writer or artist is sitting. Mr. Howell's purpose in "The Traveller from Alturia" is, month by month, becoming more evident and is now receiving wide attention at the hands of the critics all over the world.

Free Accident Insurance.

That old reliable, The Daily State Journal, has spent more money the past year in securing news, than any other state paper, and stands today at the head of Nebraska newspapers, recognized for its enterprise, truthfulness, and reliability. Published at the capital, it is the paper for Nebraskans. It has just made arrangements whereby it offers free accident insurance to every new subscriber paying $2.00 for three months in advance, which is only 10 cents more than the regular price of the paper alone. This gives every subscriber a $500 accident policy, or less, according to occupation free. If you want a daily paper, The Journal is the one you should read, as its state editions contain much later telegrams than is given by the Omaha papers. Compare them for your own satisfaction. The insurance feature alone is worth the money, as it enables every man to protect his family. Try it three months and you won't be without it. Address, Nebraska State Journal, Lincoln, Neb.
